Ray Nabbed

John Larry Ray, brother of James Earl Ray and a bank robbery suspect, was arrested Monday in Madison County, Ill. FBI officials in Springfield said Ray was arrested without incident by sheriff's police after an off-duty county deputy spotted him walking along Illinois 140. Ray, 47, whose brother was convicted of assassinating civil rights leader Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., was being sought by Adams County authorities in the $15,000 robbery of the Farmers' Bank of Liberty on May 30.
